

CSR Development

Reflection

In this project we were going to develop a CSR strategy for a big company. This including a redesign of the company's website to fit into the company's CSR strategy and search engine optimized. This reflection might not be the best, because I'm writing it while having a fever.

Teamwork

In this project we were going pick our own teams. It seemed like people teamed up real fast. I ended up in a group with four classmates who I hadn't worked with before. I thought it was a great opportunity to get to know some new people. Through most of the project I felt like people weren't that serious about the work or just quite insecure. I always make sure to do my part of the work, but this time I took on too much responsibility.

My work

During this project I took on a lot of the responsibility, as pointed out in the previous paragraph. Other than pushing myself to the max, my selfconfidence was increased because I found out that I'm able to do much more than I thought.

Response

(Coming soon)

Ideas for changes

If it was up to me I would change most of the report. I was not at all satisfied with the end result, but I couldn't do anymore.
